National Drug Takeback Day is October 28.

To combat the ongoing opioid crisis in Pennsylvania, your contribution can play a pivotal role in preventing the sharing and misuse of prescription drugs. Alarmingly, in Pennsylvania, nearly 47.8% of students who misused prescription drugs took them from their parents' homes. Typically, teens and young adults engage, at a higher rate, in the sharing of prescription drugs. Whether this misuse is intentional or accidental, it's important to emphasize that taking prescription medications not prescribed to you (or sharing them) is both illegal and associated with significant risks.

Our efforts to address the opioid overdose epidemic have grown significantly in terms of detail and scope. Consequently, we have expanded our range of communication tools. PAStop recognizes the crucial importance of raising awareness and providing education on the following issues:

- Not sharing prescription medications for any reason
- Secure Medication Storage
- Safe disposal of unused or expired medications
- Dropping off unused medications at an authorized takeback location
